Parliamentary Debate: The Journal of the National Parliamentary Debate Association is the peer-reviewed, professional journal of the National Parliamentary Debate Association. The journal provides a forum to stimulate critical thinking and dialogue and to encourage research into parliamentary debate and other areas of argumentation. The journal is seeking articles related to argumentation, debate theory and practice, issues related to parliamentary debate, competition, and argumentation pedagogy.

For article submission, please send three double-spaced copies to:

Trischa Goodnow
Editor, Parliamentary Debate
204 Shepard Hall
Oregon State University
Corvallis, OR 97331

Inquiries may be sent via email to tgoodnow@oregonstate.edu. Electronic submissions are also acceptable. Articles must conform to MLA style guidelines. Since the journal is blind, peer-reviewed, the author's names, academic titles and affiliation, and manuscript history should appear on a separate title page. Upon acceptance of the manuscript for publication, authors should be prepared to submit a final draft of the essay, including images and figures, using a popular word processing program for the PC.

Reviews of sources pertinent to parliamentary debate should be sent to:

Marty Birkholt
Associate Editor, Parliamentary Debate
Creighton University
Dept. of Communication Studies
2500 California Plaza
Omaha, NE 68178

Electronic inquiries and submissions can be sent to: mjb@creighton.edu.
