2007-2008 Faculty Excellence Award

Last May, we as a faculty recognized the excellent contributions of three colleagues

- Kirk Freeman, Excellence in Teaching
- Paul Eddy, Excellence in Scholarship
- Karen McKinney, Excellence in Service

These annual faculty excellence awards serve a dual purpose:

- To honor the excellent work of our colleagues
- To celebrate the contributions we as a community make in our varied roles as teachers, scholars, and servants

Because we believe that both purposes are important, we are asking for your help in making these awards more than just symbolic; as we have done in previous years, we are asking you to consider making a financial contribution which will allow each award to include a check for $1,000.

We will soon be seeking nominations for this year's awards, so please be considering whom you might recommend.
